Politics

CPC leader M. J. Coldwell just saw his party badly beaten in a Dominion election. He announced the CPC doesn't advocate a big "overrunning" because it would be bad for the country. As a matter of fact, he says the CPC wants decent living conditions for everyone as an example of what he means. Monopolies should be socialized and companies serving the public interest without exploitation should be left in private hands, he says.

The Nation

Canada has changed from an agricultural to a manufacturing nation in the last decade. We have Recombined Milk, Winter Winters. The nation's productive capacity has increased about 50 per cent in the last decade, he said.

Science

Gum drops are better bait for mice than cheese, according to mice scientists at University of Vermont. The mice were dropped in ordinary traps with wonderful results. Mouse bites into gum drops. It sticks in its trap. Trap finishes off.

Religion

Hymns have declined an end to religious training in schools of the nation. Parents wishing to have religious instruction of young people continued must notify school authorities before Sept. 15. The government did not state whether or not any protest would be made against religious training in such cases and some believe it is a trap for parents who still hold religion dear.

Coach Annie Stukus wasn't too disappointed about losing the game.

Said Annie: "It is we had the game to Edmonton last night. We went into that game with just a bunch of players who hadn't played together in even an exhibition game."

"WE HAVE A TEAM!"

"They went down fighting. Now I know we have a football team. We'll win a lot of games before the season's over." But what really makes her happy is that it sold the game to the fans. That is all certain.

"People won't be as bad as we had last night and our financial worries are a thing of the past."

Coach Stukus said his team thrashed the tough without serious injury.

Only injury that looks at all serious is the sprained knee of cracked ribs suffered by Bill Stukus, kid brother of the coach.

Bill, who is a member of the team, has a cracked rib, but is pretty stiff and sore today. He may be out of action a while with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, says the coach.

BIG HANDICAP

Stukus said lots of Pat West from the lineup last night was a severe handicap.

West was out with a cyst on the leg. He will be O.K. for the weekend game with Williamsport.

"The doctor is going to us after all," was the parting comment of Stukus.

"I never thought I would see a cross in the middle of a football game in Edmonton," he said.

Expropriation Of Radio Hinted

Royal Commission Told Such A Move Possible

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—(CP)—Peter Wright, counsel for the Royal Commission on Arts and Sciences, said today the commission may have to consider whether private radio stations in Canada should be expropriated by the publicly-owned CBC.

In a charge, the commission told the CBC on submissions made by the CBC and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, Mr. Wright said the commission's "task" given the commission is to examine and make recommendations concerning the future of the radio industry in Canada should be based in the field of radio and television broadcasting.

NO PATTERN

Wright said that the commission has no pattern on which to base its recommendations, as there is no precedent in Canada or Britain.

The situation, he said, has changed greatly since the formation of the CBC. The national system has grown to its present size and alongside it has flourished private stations.

"Generally speaking it can be said that the national broadcasting corporation is not yet acknowledged to have a place in Canadian national life."

"In the same way it seems now to be generally acknowledged that there is a place in Canadian life for private stations," he said.

12. Provincial or regional networks.

13. Collection of the license fee by the post office.

14. Representation of the private stations on the board of governors of the CBC.

REGIONAL PROGRAMS

15. Regional programming by groups of private stations.

16. Granting to private stations of a part of the receiving set license fees for use in providing community service stations.

17. Representation of the private stations on the board of governors of the CBC.

COMMUNITY FIELD

18. The place in Canadian life which all agree is proper for the CBC is the field of local community broadcasting."

Mr. Wright set down these 13 problems in his speech in the radio station at this time:

1. Determination of policy within the CBC.

2. Determination of policy within the provinces which the CBC can maintain or attain with more income.

3. Problem of obtaining more income for the CBC and the consideration of the principles underlying the present license fee, its amount or other payment, grants, fixed stipends, grants, a tax on commercial programs and other

British Recovery Seen By Visiting Journalist

Canada will be faced with making a great decision if the sterling bloc nations are forced to form an isolated trading area.

This was the view expressed yesterday by Arthur Beverly Baxter, Canadian member of the British parliament, who is visiting Edmonton.

Mr. Baxter addressed Edmontonians at a noon luncheon in the Macdonald on "The World Today and Tomorrow."

"Britain and other members of the sterling bloc will not collapse. It is too large and powerful a unit to do so," he said.

Mr. Baxter said the world's sterling orbit along with most of the British Commonwealth," he said.

"The British crisis is not really British but American," he added, pointing out it was the case of the U.S. that started the great world creditor nation with a productive capacity three times greater than the pre-war days.

He said the vast majority of the British economy was practically untouched by the ravages of war.

UP TO US.

Canada stands to lose much if Britain suffers economic collapse as a result of the dollar's fall and visit to Canada club

"Do you know that one of every four cars in Canada is imported directly as a result of exports shipped to sterling countries, chief of which is Britain?" he asked.

He said a great creditor nation like the United States must either import from the nations owing her or else the world trade must of necessity follow.

He recalled that Britain gave a classic example of how to solve this problem in the nineteenth century when she was the world's greatest creditor nation.

Britishers had no trade barriers and did not even give preference to their own colonies or commonwealth countries under the Empire trade agreements of 1932.

Mr. Baxter is on a speaking tour of Canada and now returning from the Pacific coast.

18 Kiddies Are Placed

Foster homes have been provided in the Grande Prairie and Lethbridge areas for 18 children who were former residents of Edmonton orphan homes.

C. H. Bill, superintendent of child welfare for Alberta, said he and members of his staff personally inspected the Northern Alberta homes.

Earlier this summer the children were among a group of orphans who spent holidays in the Peace River and Grande Prairie areas before returning to the city to go north for Christmas holidays.

Of the 18 children, 15 are above average in intelligence and in foster homes under a special arrangement with the department.

42 Polio Cases Reported In Alberta.

Principal health department sources said today 42 cases of polio have been reported this season.

Last year there were nearly 500 cases during a similar period, all of which experienced the world epidemic in history.

Late victim of the disease is a 22-year-old man from Rivière Qui Barre, near Edmonton.

Meeting Off

Regular meeting of the Alberta cabinet, scheduled for this morning, was canceled today due to the death of its deputy provincial treasurer, J. F. Percival.

Cabinet members, most of whom attended the funeral this afternoon, will meet tomorrow.

$3 Million Fire Probe Opens Here

New York Fire Expert Expected To Testify

With an American fire expert prepared to give testimony, investigation into the $3,000,000 Northern Hardware building fire last March got underway today before Mr. Justice G. O'Connor.

Harold J. Burke of New York, whose testimony is expected to have important bearing on the outcome of the investigation hearing, was in town.

Mr. Burke listened to opening proceedings with interest. He will take part in the hearing which is expected to last two weeks.

First witness in the hearing to determine whether or not Edmonton's fire department was negligent in their handling of the March blaze is W. S. Thomson, Northern Hardware building superintendent.

GIVES DETAIL

Mr. Thomson described in detail the construction of the building which was severely damaged and destroyed.

Under questioning, he explained that at the time of the fire he followed his description on a scale model of the structure.

In the building he said, there were two lengths of hose on each floor.

Questioning centred for some time on the partitions on the fourth floor, many of which did not extend to the ceiling.

MAN INSPECTED

Mr. Justice O'Connor and participating barristers made a personal inspection of the burned out building early this afternoon.

Edmonton Fire Department representing the Northern Hardware company, the owners of the building.

The building has 5th floors and principal losers in the place.

Representing the city is T. E. Garadise, while Ronald Martland is for City Councilman A. MacGregor and the Edmonton fire department.

Sunday Delivery Needed

A city-wide survey has shown that approximately 140 retail stores with adequate refrigeration are available for the Sunday sale of milk in Edmonton.

The Sunday delivery system, proposed to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners tomorrow as an excuse for the ruling to perpetuate the six-day milk delivery system in Edmonton.

It is a poor excuse.

If there were 1,400 such stores in Edmonton they would not provide a suitable substitute for the Sunday milk delivery right at the door.

The fact that the corner store has milk is no comfort for those housewives who have to go out looking for it on Sunday mornings when the baby is crying for his hunger in the usual way.

The six-day delivery system is one of the amenities of civilization, is one of the important factors in Canada's high standard of living.

But if housewives have to travel abroad for their milk on Sundays, they might just as well travel abroad for it every other day.

The six-day delivery system is a regression that pulls down living standards in Edmonton.

The Old Political Run-Around

The notorious Gallup Poll, which sometimes manages to be amusing even if it is not accurate, has come up with something more substantial, a study of the behavior of voters who are carried to the polls in party cars on election days.

The result of this study does not sustain much faith in the honesty of voters.

In the last election, on election day, of all passengers carried to the polls in Liberal cars, eight per cent voted for the Progressive Conservatives and one per cent for the CCF.

But the Progressive Conservatives met with even blacker ingratitude.

Unsuccessful Speculation in Britain

Most Canadians accepted the closing of trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange because they had been convinced that trading in wheat futures was speculation in the food of the people.

Anybody who took the time to study the subject knew that it was not so simple. Trading in futures is not speculation, but an attempt to avoid the risks of speculation.

It might now be noted that the Socialist government in Britain has proved this contention up to the hilt — quite unintentionally.

One of the first steps which the Socialist government undertook was to close down markets in which various commodities were freely traded.

They closed down exchange which dealt in cotton, in wheat, and in base metals.

They substituted for the exchange system of trading a system by which the government established boards which buy and sell the market supply of the commodities. The government pointed out that this completely removed speculation. What it did, of course, was to substitute for the system of preventing speculative rises by futures trading a plan which left the market open to the taxpayers' money to speculate.

For a while, as commodity prices went up, the government's speculation worked too badly. It is not hard to make a dollar by buying goods which are rising in price.

Then the market prices of these commodities began to fall, and the government boards had on hand large stocks, or had contracted to buy large stocks, at the higher prices. That meant that the

Enterprising Young

That is a healthy situation developing at Lacome.

There at a quick count, there are something like 20 young men in business.

It augurs well for the town's future.

It is a tribute to the ability of these young entrepreneurs.

It is an encouraging picture in these days when there is so much talk of young Canadians seeking the so-called "big money" in the United States, and of our

of those to whom they thus gave a ride, a full 30 per cent voted for other parties.

The Gallup Poll did not investigate the actions of those who rode in CCP cars, or perhaps the result was too dismal to reveal.

Some centuries ago, a clever, astute gentleman named Sir Walter Raleigh advised all succeeding generations not to put their trust in princes.

But princes, it seems, are models of fidelity compared with voters who hook ridies in political motor cars.

Life's Darkest Moment

Editor, Bulletin — I am concerned about the possibility that the British will be forced to sell these raw materials to us at higher prices than the manufacturers of other countries who could take advantage of lower prices.

At the time when the argument could not really hit the price of some of these commodities rose again, so that these commodities rose again, so that these government boards are now in a condition of confusion. They have no hand stocks of goods which they are trying to sell to break even, and the British manufacturer a chance to live.

They have to keep moving the price of these commodities up and down.

In fact, the British government has been speculating in all sorts of commodities, sometimes winning, sometimes losing.

Over the long term, it looks as though the tendency would have to be for the government to add to its money, so as to be able to meet British manufacturers can get goods at competitive prices.

Certainly, the abolition of futures trading has turned out to be in Britain, not a method of stopping speculation, but one of making it impossible to avoid speculation.

Men of Lacome

young people leaving the country for the cities.

In these days when many talk of greener pastures farther afield, Lacome can sit back and know its future is in good hands.

But what so many young people joining the vigor with the experience of the older people — a happy combination and a good team — it is unlikely Lacome will be inclined to sit back.

ON THE RECORD

New German President Man of Accomplishment

The first president of the West German Republic, Dr. Konrad Adenauer, is more pro-France than Germany.

As a Rhinelander, from the most European of Germany's provinces, where French and Germans mix so merrily and happily, Dr. Adenauer, who always longed for the ending of the war, has a special fondness between them expressed in these disastrous wars.

The new high commissioner for the Free State of M. François-Poncet speaks German fluently. Dr. Adenauer, the new West German president, speaks perfectly French, and is a "natural" Frenchman.

In October, 1946, the British pulled a terrible surprise.

They dismissed Dr. Adenauer from his post as Lord Mayor of Cologne, and he was reinstated by the Americans, for failing to display sufficient energy in his efforts to persuade him to enter the city of which he had been Lord Mayor from 1933 to 1935, and the advent of Hitler, whose party removed him.

During that time he made Cologne a great city.

He founded its university, rebuilt its library, provided superb workers' housing, surrounded it with a "green belt" and set the fashion trade fair.

This real man, who probably ousted him, is a mystery to this day.

His anti-Nazi record was impeccable. Under the Nazis he remained in complete retirement, remained neutral, and was reconciled with the party he had partly helped him to power.

He was real man, who probably ousted him, is a mystery to this day.

One of those historical ironies, hisouting from the Colony by the British, precipitated him into national politics when he was chosen to represent the constituency of Cologne in the Federal Diet.

He was a brilliant, tactful, resourceful, and popular politician among contemporary German politicians.

Spare, Erect

Though he is 73, he is astonishingly youthful — tall, spare, erect and spry.

British, as individuals, like him because he looks and acts like them. Dr. Grotewohl would be eliminated forever — and not without prophetic insight.

Dr. Adenauer is old (and tall) and looks like a gentleman to harriers grizzlies.

Besides, the British prejudice certainly against him.

He saw it as elementary and revolutionary hubris from the dark depths of resentment, a mass movement, brutal, unscrupulous, and of small movements always are, and, a peculiar German form of Bolshevik swaying away all traditions, standards and institutions in its torrent of radical National Socialism.

Dr. Adenauer is neither a vehement nor a fanatical socialist.

He is neither a communist nor a Nazi.

He does not believe in the political and economic centralized state. He believes in a high degree of local self-government and in humanized private enterprise.

Whether or not either can succeed in Germany is a great question, which may determine the fate under Dr. Adenauer the "know how" boys of German industry will be given every chance.

If he and they fall, some sort of violent reaction is certain.

All these ideas are completed way from the rest of our country.

There are signs of it everywhere, perhaps too late.

Boundary Parley Declared Good Idea

The proposal to hold a conference of the municipalities on all sides of the border between Canada and the U.S. is certainly a good idea.

With the rapid expansion of Edmonton and the settlements which are developing all around it, there is a pressing need to adopt some uniformity in many matters.

It is not necessary for Edmonton to change its boundaries. In fact, with the boundaries as they are already struggling to keep up with current developments, any extension of city boundaries would simply mean that the added areas would be easily neglected.

It is also clear that as long as central city areas have miles of poor streets and lack many other necessary facilities no added area could hope for any improvements for years to come.

At the same time, and in spite of added difficulties, the independent municipalities of the surrounding areas can provide much better services and provide them more rapidly than could the city.

Mot Serious Problem

The most serious problem however, is when these various areas remain completely independent of each other.

The first point in trying to maintain decent health conditions in one area if unsanitary conditions are permitted right alongside of them is to keep a police force to police one area, if any adjoining area is permitted to become a safe-hangout for objectionable characters.

There is also the question of transportation, of local regional roads which may lack the protection provided in other areas.

There is even the question of transportation, of local regional roads which may lack the protection provided in other areas.

We are all blind until we see. That is the human plan. Hindsight is worth the making of mistakes, but we must learn.

Why build these cities glorious, if man unbuilds goes?

Keeping Milk Fresh

Editor, Bulletin — Having found a way to keep the milk over the weekend, I thought there would be others who would be interested.

When Socrates was asked to express an opinion as to what class of people were happiest, he said, "The wealthy, because they have more possessions than the poor."

We are left to ourselves, however, to decide whether this condition is more readily brought about by the amplitude of our possessions or the contradiction of desire of each other.

One Man's Seed Show Is Paying

Campaign Decade Ago Is Dividend In Westlock Area

WESTLOCK. Sept. 8—Mighty oaks may grow from tiny acorns, but Edgar Wood did pretty well with a few sacks of seed.

Hardly a decade has passed since Wood went to the farm to farm with seeds, and he is now growing of forage crops but it has turned out he was peddling a pretty fair product for such crops in 1946 brought farmers of this district around $2,000,000.

CROPS TOO HEAVY

It was in 1937 that Mr. Wood, who had started his seeds at Westlock, got into trouble. At that time he was district agriculturist and the seed was made available at reasonable prices by the Alberta Department of Agriculture throughout the seed policy.

It's nice to report it turned out to be a good idea, but Mr. Wood reluctantly said it was almost too much of a good thing because farmers were while were sowing too many but the market was tapering off to reasonable levels.

The campaign, however, did turn Westlock district into the largest forage seed producing area in all of Canada.

In its unassuming for a decade, Edgar Wood and his wife were estimates are estimated at around 7,000,000 pounds.

He caught on slowly, but within the last five years became big business.

This was due in part to end of his campaign for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, destroyed pasture and to vitalize lands that had been used for wheat growing.

HAZARD INSURANCE

Prices for seeds, for example, start from 10 cents to 12 cents—they are 21 cents today—and they went up the same time the farmers got into the market.

Some were growing up to 300 acres which was too much, but they have come to realize that on the average 100 acres is the quarter section and incorporation into rotation schemes, forage crops could go on indefinitely on a paying basis.

It provides a backlog to cereal grains which are still the bulk of the production at the same time insurance against the hazards that may reduce grain crops.

CROP COMES BACK

The farmers particularly like it because there is no crop which can be planted so quickly and rapidly. Up to July this year, for instance, it appeared a poor crop, but it has come along and now every expectation of a heavy yield with early from the only rain.

Many farmers take two seed crops off before plowing.

From 1924 to 1930 Mr. Wood was educational director with the Manitoba Department of Agriculture, and from 1930 to 1935 with the Alberta Department of Agriculture at Hanna, and from 1935 to 1940 was district agriculturist at Westlock.

Since then he has been district superintendent of the Alberta Seed Growers Association.

So along with the farmers he is now helping to reap benefits of the crop of advice that he sowed more than 10 years ago. —L.D.D.L.

Blueberries Are Plentiful

HIGH PRAIRIE. Sept. 6—Many berry pickers journeying from High Prairie to Journeay have found the bushy south of the highway covered with blueberries, mingled with the pungent plants of Labrador tea.

Indian families have been selling their fruit to amble neighbors at 20 cents per pound.

Work is continuing at the Cadzow fishing plant, where white fish, jack and pickerel are prepared for shipment.

Hardisty Building Relieves Shortage

HARDISTY. Sept. 6—Several new buildings, including houses, have been constructed in Hardisty this year and several older buildings have been modernized. Fred Hedman and Fred Drager are the latest to erect new residences.

For the past three years Hardisty Lake summer resort by Hardisty Stampede Association, has been a real boon to the district.

Frank Lakin is building a locker plant beside his butcher shop.

Accident Victim Funeral at Red Deer

RED DEER. Sept. 6—Funeral service for Lachlan Hickley, 46, who died in a car accident, was held yesterday on his farm at Ridgewood, west of Penhold, was held from Brown and Johnson funeral chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickley, Mr. Hickley was born in Red Deer, is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son, and by his mother, Mrs. John Hickley, two brothers, Amos and Fred, Red Deer, and two sisters, Mrs. Helene, of Dixon, and Grace, Red Deer.

Beardless Boys To Take Trimming

SESMITH. Sept. 6.—If you can't grow a beard because you're bald, you might as well blow so far as Sesmith is concerned.

A proclamation has been issued over the signatures of E. Umphash, mayor; A. F. Menzies and C. J. Stojan, councillors, calling upon all able-bodied men between age of 18 and 37 to grow whiskers. Failure to comply will see the culprit being placed in a public display, subject to community of said public, for the period of two hours or until he has confessed his wrongdoing and has promised to take steps to rectify same.

There is no reason for this, of course, and the reason for this is to let the Sesmiths know that he will be held Oct. 29 and 31.

They did the same thing last year and a good number of them though they took an awful trimming when it was over.

It's nice to report it turned out to be a good idea, but Mr. Wood reluctantly said it was almost too much of a good thing because farmers were while were sowing too many but the market was tapering off to reasonable levels.

SETS NEW COURSE RECORD

Leonard Sensational To Win Alberta Open

By STAN MOHER

Take it from Bud Ward, twice United States amateur champion, there's only one golfer in the world who hits the ball farther off the tee than Stan Leonard.

Harold p.b. Ward, 28, whacks it a little farther than Stan, Ward told a group in the clubhouse at Mayfair golf course yesterday, following his run-up effort against Leonard in the annual Alberta Open.

"And I guess Sam Snead hits it about as far as the famous Ward," he said.

However, once around the turn the eventual winner, who scored his seventh triumph in this tournament at Mayfair, was unable to represent the west in an east-west staged shortly, stayed home because of his five-hour flight by air.

"And I guess Sam Snead hits it about as far as the famous Ward," he said.

Ward, the kind of amateur before the war who had what it took to level showmakers or star pros, at the Alberta Open had good reason to know that Leonard certainly was one of the great hitters in the country.

For 26 years yesterday, while one of the largest crowds in history of the sport gathered to watch Ward, twice U.S. amateur king, wound up in runner-up slot, nine strokes behind Leonard who fired breathtaking 269.

And Ward, the kind amateur before the war who had what it took to level showmakers or star pros, at the Alberta Open had good reason to know that Leonard certainly was one of the great hitters in the country.

Leonard, who fired 269, despite fact later two shot fine 69.

Leonard's prodigious tee-shots and long drives, which were in a lot of plain and fancy work on the greens, told the story.

Tournament, sponsored by the Alberta Golf Association, came in the history of the Tshale test.

Charlie Smith, president of the local golfers, of presentation-of-prizes ceremony, once the curtain had come down.

Scientists must be coming out of their ivory tower at last. Read the other day where a psychiatrist suggests our political leaders have their heads examined every once in a while.

Although the psychiatrist used a lot of big words you could read between the lines he is talking of the political class. I wonder if they may not be altogether responsible for the mess they make of running the country.

He could run out boldly with the suggestion there be regular medical examinations for national and civic leaders. They are often too busy to think about their own make-those decisions, he avers.

Now offhand I think the guy's really got something.

WAS HITLER SANE?

With a system like that works for a government in every nation it seems altogether likely they would have been no second World War.

Does anyone believe for a moment that the late Adolf Hitler could have passed a good stiff medical examination in the summer of 1939?

Remember those radio broadcasts Adolf used to make about Poland in July and August of 1939?

Getting closer to home, a system of mental examinations would have interesting possibilities among political candidates around here.

Wouldn't one first-class psychiatrist ever grant a certificate to the average seeker after political honest? He could be sure in regard of the promises made in the first election speech?

Wouldn't it seem strange to see that a cabinet meeting has been held because three or four of the ministers were undergoing treatment for a mild psychosis in a hospital?

WOULD BE CAREFUL!

City Council meetings would probably be conducted with greater care if the mayor and aldermen knew they might have to appear before a medical body batch after a session at city business.

But joking aside the day may not be far off when we all will be required to have regular physical and mental checkups.

People who are in good physical and mental health don't make many mistakes.

We are slowly but surely getting away from the cruel view that mental illness means dark ages when mental sickness is shameful.

Why in the world should a mentally unbalanced person be treated as a leper? The human brain is just prone to break down as the liver or kidneys.

If we can't get rid of the inflammation of the lungs we don't mind talking about the ease to all our friends that we have an inflammation of the brain we discuss it in whispers.

We're not very intelligent after all.

Alberta Woman Injured in U.S.

CARDSTON, Sept. 6—(CP)—Mrs. Russell Hendry of Cardston, Alberta, was admitted to a Mont. hospital suffering from a crushed lung received when the car in which she was a passenger plunged into a ditch near the town.

Roland Herr, another passenger, suffered a broken arm. Mrs. Hendry's husband and Mr. Herr's wife, all of Cardston, suffered a shock.

Car Dealers Practices Are Under Fire

More rigid enforcement of the code of fair competition and business practice in the automotive trade may be ordered by the Alberta department of industries and labor.

Members of the advisory committee of the automotive trade recently met Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson, industries and labor minister, to suggest that action be taken against dealers alleged violations of the code.

Claims of unfair practices by car dealers were made in a brief submitted to the department recently by the Calgary and Edmonton Automobile Dealers' Association.

The brief alleged some dealers were bringing outlays of cars as gifts to customers in Alberta and were thus unfairly competing with franchised dealers.

Claims were also leveled that advertising used by some dealers was misleading and offered as vehicles that had been used for some time.

The advisory committee recommended that the department not permit used car advertising in the trade under the present code.

INJURED SPEEDERS were not in evidence during whole run-off of 10 heats in yesterday's fourth annual soapbox derby. Narrow escapes were common, as several crafty drivers fragged and ground go down the track. McGinnis No. 13, driven by Dick McGinnis and Jimmie Clegg, careered crazily out of control. Eastwood school student Bill Dickson, 13711-90 street, in No. 14, couldn't avoid piling into already wrecked crate. No. 15, piloted by Roger Gardner sailed to victory unopposed in second heat.

Claims were also leveled that advertising used by some dealers was misleading and offered as vehicles that had been used for some time.

The advisory committee recommended that the department not permit used car advertising in the trade under the present code.

Concord Grapes Here For Autumn Jellies

By Bea Thrifty

Huzzah! The grape jelly we'll be after havin' this foib bright midsummer morn . . . and freshly cooked too.

Blue concord grapes are here. For all that luscious-jelly you plan to make for winter breakfasting. They're still selling at prices like 25¢ per pound. I suggest waiting for a week 'till the novelty wears off and the price tag comes down.

I'm experimenting today 'though . . . I just can't wait for at least a taste.

BRIDGE

Beautiful Squeeze Gives a Little Slam

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

No reply of fax mail letters would be complete if I did not get some complaints. People generally complain about something unless they have some complaint—but today I want to complain about bridge. I have had many letters from people who write me complaints or no complaints, but I also would like to have a few words from their own group of players. I write bridge as it is played all over the world. I am a Canadian. If a certain bid or play happens to produce a good result for you, then my other readers would like to hear that hand. It may help them game.

Mr. H. A. Jacobs of New York sent me a hand which was played in his group, and it was a beautiful squeeze.

West opened the seven hearts, declarer was dummy and East was declarer. He immediately ruffed a heart, dropping King's King. He cashed the King of spades and led a small diamond to the ten spot. The six of spades was led and East won with the King. He returned a club, hoping his partner could ruff, but his trumps were all gone. West cashed the queen. He played all the diamonds and on the last diamond West cashed the King. The ten of spades and the queen-and-queen-of-hearts was squeezed. West declared a ten trick fit. The spades declarer discarded the ten of clubs from dummy.

The king of clubs was played and East-West was squeezed. If he discarded the queen of hearts, dummy's Jack would be good, while if he discarded the ten of clubs declarer would lead the ten of spades.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Marriage Can Be Run On Business Principle

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a bridal couple, very much in love with each other and blissfully happy. We want to stay that way.

Will you please give us a plan whereby we may keep as much in love with each other as we are now? We are determined to make our marriage a success.

ANSWER: If you are really determined to make your marriage a success, you can do it. I am firmly convinced that any man and woman who are really determined to make an effort just trying to make a go of their marriage as of their husband will never fail.

You will need a lot of advice that I give you is to look upon your marriage as a business in which you have invested everything you have in the world, including your whole future depends.

Don't get discouraged when you discover that you are not making a million-dollar a day. Don't throw it up and run off to the divorce court when you find out that there are other men interested in it that you never knew.

Just sit down and make up your mind to see through. Try to find out what your husband does wrong and correct them. Have patience with each other's faults.

Married life is a long time starting in on a job at which you are amateurs and that you have to learn by experience how to be a good business man.

Use as much self-control in dealing with each other as you would with your business or customers.

Settle the money question once and for all. Do not let it become a perpetual bone of contention. Every month you should definite allowance given her on which she can run the house and another for her own expenses.

Otherwise, she cannot manage her affairs intelligently and economically. There is nothing that causes a woman more pain than a sense of humiliation and injustice.

"I'm kind of partial to the cherry-plum jam myself. The tiny cherries-plums are setting in and are delicious. There's no shakes for eating as is, but cooked into a delicious jam . . . Oh my oh my on my oh my."

I paid a mere shiny 25¢ piece today for two fine jars of jam. Mrs. 123 I think it was a wee bit more. The jolly red-faced salesman . . . but they're awfully nice looking. I think he's a good man. He writes me, complaints or no complaints, but I also would like to have a few words from their own group of players. I write bridge as it is played all over the world. I am a Canadian. If a certain bid or play happens to produce a good result for you, then my other readers would like to hear that hand. It may help them game.

Much ado about a lot of things brings disappointment to those that have paid for it. I have been happily successful in the role of protecting hardwood floors. In some cases, what you suppose odds are in the way of furniture fixing?

I wouldn't be surprised without expert advise from some chappy "in the know." It would be a veritable shame to have anything happen that just doesn't fit.

But if the plastic will do the trick . . . what a terrific set-down of the casual settler-down of glass.

I for one am sick and tired of wearing over sturdy pair of shoes every time I step into the clothes closet.

Husband for another is tired of the same mistake.

So between the two of us we're scraping along 12¢ together and racing to the finish line. We're getting in a sum in search of a shape rack. I spotted a nifty just the other day in a store. It had three double racks, a sofa, a small round table, two feet wide . . . unpatented of course.

This might be just the answer to our prayers.

More in the same vein . . . and have your dress-polish to a fine 8c shoe polishing stand yet stand up straight in the kitchen as well as a shoe-polishing cloth. A simple idea if ever there was one.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Preparing Your Child For School Experiences

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The usual age at which children go to kindergarten is five years. If there is no kindergarten, the child should be six years in order to enter the first grade. At this age children have developed mentally to the point at which they can absorb the lessons of this grade.

Since there is often a variation in the age of first grade pupils it is obvious that the older ones have all the best of it. They learn more easily and quickly.

Any child under 5 years of age should be in a Nursery School and should not be expected to attend school until he has learned to walk.

Mr. S. D. F. poses this question: "Is it better to send a child to a nursery school or to a Kindergarten?"

"About a year ago I sent him to a Nursery School because I was going to work. He was a baby and I thought that the best place for him to go was to a Kindergarten. He is a baby and should not be in school and I wonder if you could help me to understand for school should he go?"

It won't be necessary for another year, not then if there is no Kindergarten. When the child is three the child will change greatly and will have arrived at a period of development when he should be ready for the new experiences of school.

This will happen, I am sure, unless the parents are so anxious for the child to go to school that they lack the companionship of other children and the inspiration of school days.

It is possible that he relates his unhappiness at enforced separation from his mother to the fact that he has come to dislike it. If he has the normal experiences of an active childhood he will grow up and be able to withstand the trials of school.

"How the Child Develops," Leaflet No. 40, contains information on the growth of the child. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

ANSWER: I am sure that you are having to go like a beggar to your husband for his services in the home. He thrifty. Make it a cast-iron rule that you never buy anything that they have a word to say to each other.

Give the soft answer that turns away wrath. That is better than standing up for your rights. And incidentally, the wife is the one to get the last word.

Be tender and affectionate and considerate to each other and you will both be happy. You will be a success and love each other better before your golden wedding day than you do by learning experience how to be a good business man.

WHY GROW OLD

Family Circle Proves Greatest Happiness

By Josephine Lowman

The greatest happiness in life is found in a happy family circle. Perhaps the greatest preserver of youthfulness and attractiveness is also found in the same place.

The greatest divorces rates over the past few years present a hazard to this great source of happiness, health and inspiration.

Therefore, the reports of the Family Service Association of America become most interesting and instructive. The report is far too long to quote in full, but I am going to give you a review of it.

The divorce rate decreased in 1947 for the first time since 1932. Yet the number of divorces increased 10 per cent in 1946, and the 1947 rate is 35 per cent greater than in 1940, and about twice as great as prior to World War One.

Here are some of the things the family service agencies had to say:

1. Some recommendations for the lowered rate in 1947: Improved living conditions, passing the peak of divorces among young married couples; continued懂得 the war made single men more mature and better prepared for marriage; less opportunity for marriage; more opportunities for women to continue their education and hold personal interests.

2. Some of the recommendations for increasing marital success which the Family Service Association of America gives are: education and counselling laws which call for a waiting period before marriage; improved laws for divorce and family service agencies when couples encounter discord; more adequate housing; greater emphasis on all phases of family life; research on healthy family living.

3. Improved pattern — take a more realistic approach to the factors of marital success.

4. Improved pattern — visualizing the continual picture of the idealistic only.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the most important factor in a happy marriage is the emotional maturity of those entering it.

Perhaps you may find some answers to problems you may have in these experienced suggestions.

Carrier Planes In Mock Attack

HONG KONG, Sept. 2.—(Reuters)—Fleet air arm Seafires today "attacked" Hong Kong in an exercise designed to test the alertness of the aircraft carrier Triumph.

A preliminary official analysis said the defense of the city was well prepared. The aircraft of the Seafires were intercepted by Spitfires, but others got through. Most of the bombs dropped are to be based at Hong Kong as part of an expanded garrison. The Triumph is first of these.

CBC Brief Urges $5 License Fee

Claims More Money Needed To Retain Present Services

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—(CP)—The CBC board of governors urged today before the royal commission on arts and science that the annual $2.50 radio receiving set license fee be doubled to permit expansion and improvement of CBC services.

Four-Point Video Plan Given By CBC

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—(CP)—The CBC board of governors in a brief statement before the royal commission on arts and science said a four-point television program.

"In the national interest there must be a development of television by the National Broadcasting System (CBS)."

"A television receiver fee must be established adequate to meet the cost to the public of television operations in the public interest."

"The necessary loans have to be made available to the national system for capital costs and initial development."

"If private interests are to be licensed to establish a television station, the stations must maintain the needed powers of co-ordinating use of television air channels in the interest of the public and of developing a nationwide Canadian service."

CBC DEVELOPMENT

The interest of the nation could only be served if television was developed by the CBC supported by public funds.

"On the basis of straight private commercial television, television would inevitably be primarily a means of projecting non-Canadian mass culture to the public," said the board.

"All the economic pressures which tend to push commercial sound broadcasting operations in one direction would be intensified in television."

"Since television costs are so much higher and financial resources available are so much greater, tendencies would be all the stronger for private commercial television to seek foreign connections to bring in program material from south of the border."

PUBLIC INTEREST

"Television development under the national system is the only means of providing for the public use of television channels not just to provide a hard-hitting sales medium but also to serve as a medium of mass communication used in the public interest."

"It also provides the only sure basis for the development and use of television programs east and west across Canada, toward the leading center of the country to date."

The brief mentioned the government's interim policy on television, among other things, that the CBC would be given the green light to go ahead with television stations in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

PRIVATE FREQUENCIES

Private interests "would be given one frequency in each of the two centers. In other areas frequencies would be given to other private applicants, where suitable."

The interim policy also said permanent frequencies would be given a $1,000,000 loan to the CBC to cover initial television costs. This is expected to be broken out before the session begins in Sept.

The board said such loans would be needed as it was only fair that those not possessing sets pay the conditions."

Purge of Undesirables Urged on Trade Unions

TORONTO, Sept. 6.—(CP)—A plan for trade union leaders to get rid of the "destructive elements" in the Canadian labour movement was made yesterday by Labor Minister Mitchell as thousands of union members joined into the Canadian National Exhibition.

In a Labor Day address to the Exhibition's board of directors, Mr. Mitchell said a few persons have been "using their trade union position to advocate ideas that have nothing to do with true trade unionism."

The minister, noting that responsible labor leaders "are aware of the need to work together to save our destructive elements from the labor movement."

UNREALISTIC MANAGEMENT

Mr. Mitchell said that all the "unrealistic" ideas he heard during his speech had been caused by short-sighted, unrealistic men on the side of management who "concentrate on the trade unions as an unnecessary evil."

Cairn Unveiled

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6—(CP)—A calligrapher from Paris, Pierre Gaullier de Varennes, Sieur de Verendrye, first white man to touch southern Manitoba, yesterday arrived at University International to launch upon cinema his new venture.

Six lovely young things with college sheepishness filled with enthusiasm and determination arrived at University International to be launched upon cinema careers. Thus have talent acoustics become intellectual.

Even so, the studio has decreed that all starlets shall pose for cameras for a week before the expiration of their contracts (if they last that long). Brainy women must now seek appeal, too.

THE DRAGON'S TENTS

Four of the six studied drama at college, but only recently preparing for an acting career.

I liked it better than any other subject," said Peggy Castle, from Miss College. Peggy is a blonde, with dark eyes.

Dorothy Hart, the gal who had the acting career in mind all the time, has been thrust into the limelight by the studio.

Peggy Dow, another blonde, has a degree from Northwestern. Said Peggy: "Whether you can sing or not doesn't matter. You can't act at the studio. They'll teach you. I told them I couldn't; but I would if I could."

Helenas Carter, a green-eyed redhead from Columbia University, has been taking dictation lessons for three years to polish off a British accent.

The girls are unanimous in the belief that a college education is a great asset to an actress.
